The great Editor of the Courier-Journal at last sees the signs of the imperialistic tendency of the Republican party couched behind the unjust and humiliating reprimand of General Miles, by the President. Mr. Watson's editorial of February 1st, styled, "The March of Imperialism," is a masterpiece of logic, a clear note of warning and a strong appeal to the friends of a true Republic to stand together and work to ward off imperialism. The Courier-Journal is an advocate of expansion, but an enemy of imperialism. We have never believed that our government would be made better, wiser or richer by acquiring possessions and administering colonial dependencies. We have never believed such expansion would result in good to the principles that underlie a true Republic; we have feared the tendency to drift the power from the people and to rest it in the hands of a few. From the beginning of the human race the strong have sought to subdue the weak, the rich have oppressed the poor, and the shrewd and cunning have cheated the simple. He who has the power claims the right to rule. This was exemplified when the American Colonies were forced to revolt and the spirit that actuated our forefathers has been the beacon light of the world—setting up the freest, truest governments ever instituted by man. True to the form and spirit of Government and constitution we have become a power—a power not acquired by force of arms but by a strict administration of the principles that "just governments derive their power from the consent of the governed." Greed and ambition seek wealth and power and when once strongly entrenched it cost war to overthrow. It is easier and wiser to check the ambitious official or party that seeks to pervert the constitution or to usurp a power than to overthrow after acquisition. If Mr. Watson's conclusions of the President's real intentions are correct, then Mr. Roosevelt is a dangerous Executive and that part of his party who believes in a true Republic should cast him aside and repudiate his imperialistic tendencies and efforts.

Mr. T. A. Murrell, who has had full and complete control of the Columbia Spectator for the past year, gives place to Mr. W. D. Jones, who has heretofore had experience in the same publication. Mr. Murrell announces that he will continue to contribute to the editorial columns, but passes the business and management and the local part to Mr. Jones. We have no tears to shed over the retirement of the one and the inauguration of the other; neither will the change disturb the patrons of the paper, for the reputation it has enjoyed under Mr. Murrell's management will descend and abide with Mr. Jones. While Mr. Murrell was our competitor, the two papers lived in peace, and we anticipate no war with the gentleman who now holds the reins.

The attorneys for Howard filed a motion last Friday for a new hearing, offering seven reasons why it should be granted and the most powerful of the seven reads thus: "The Court failed to instruct the jury as to the good character of the accused." What a job Judge Cantrell will have if required to state the character of Howard! It is probably known how many men he has killed.

W. S. Taylor, the ring leader of the murderers of the late Mr. Goebel, was entertained by the former Governor of Indiana last week. It is only a question of time when Taylor will be the chief actor in a Kentucky entertainment.

The following timely article was taken from the Somerset Journal. It is Democratic and it is with pleasure that we reproduce it for our readers—Looking at politics from a higher plane than place and patronage, Mr. Bryan is right in his plea for the union of a party upon great principles. It was what gave Jefferson and Jackson their power in the party, and later Tilden, Thurman, Hendricks and Cleveland. It is, says the Pittsburgh Post, what gives Mr. Bryan his way over millions of his countrymen, without scrap of office or patronage at his disposal. A party without principles, he truthfully asserts, can have no claim on public confidence. In a contest for mere spoils of office and power the Democratic party stands no chance. When it is a contest for principles, in which the masses believe and are united, we can always make an earnest, and sometimes successful, battle against great odds. Even if success is denied us, our duty remains. It is no dishonor to be out-voted this year when we may win next. Disgrace only comes with an abandonment of principle and a shilly-shally or evasive declaration of our faith in principles and policies which the people have at heart and believe in more thoroughly than they do in the prestige of power. "Must we abandon," says Mr. Bryan, "the self-evident truth that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed? Must we accept imperialism as an accomplished fact and join in the shout for blood and conquest?" Here we get to the backbone of Democratic faith. It is the pressing issue of the hour. In a practical way it is before Congress at this time, in legislation proposed for the Philippines, but more nearly affecting the American people, for if imperialism, colonialism, militarism, and the rejection of the Great Declaration are to become the settled policy of our government, what will the Republic be worth, when such scraps of monarchical or imperial policies become permanent fixtures? These questions are before Congress in the consideration of the Philippine bill, which will revolutionize the structure and methods of republican government. They are present in the consideration of the tariff and with them the supremacy of money, trusts and corporations in government. Here are issues on which the Democratic party is united—on which its future rests and which must be met and decided. "So the Democratic party," Mr. Bryan concludes, "whether in or out of power, is trying mankind when it stands steadfastly for constitutional government, and insists that that government shall be administered according to Jeffersonian maxims, 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.'"

The Advocate writing about the colored man Wood, who resides in Danville, and who was in Washington last week, urging the President to give the negroes of Kentucky some pie, says—"Is it possible that the colored brother in Kentucky is at last awakening to the realization of the fact that for, these many years, he has been but the hawer of wood and the drawer of water for the G. O. P.? That in the distribution of the loaves and fishes he has been persistently forgotten and overlooked by those who whom him up just on the eve of an election, in order that thereafter they may enjoy the fruits of his voting and hold high revel at the pie counter, while he looks on pined and hungry? Indeed does look so a man up a tree, when brother Wood and his coteries make forced marches on the capital in order to deliver a message to the President in which they say that 'not one of our number holds a Presidential appointment, except one in the consular service.' Whether or not the 'hunger and apathy' can be scouted by a rough rider remiss to be seen."

The elect storm last week did considerable damage to Kentucky towns. The loss at Paducah was estimated at $250,000. Business of all classes was suspended and the newspapers were not issued for two days. In Louisville business was retarded and telephone communication stopped. No man ever received greater honor than was shown Admiral Schley by the City of Louisville last week.

The trial of Jim Howard for the murder of the late Governor Goebel was concluded at Frankfort last week. The jury was out on a verdict after two hours and brought in a verdict finding his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life. Upon the first ballot the jury voted unanimously that Howard was guilty. The second ballot disclosed the fact that the jury was hung and seven for imprisonment for life. The five finally came to the seven and the verdict made. A motion for a new trial was made and overruled, and the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals. Howard was not the least disturbed when the verdict was read, and in a few minutes thereafter laughed and chatted with his friends. So far as we are able to discern Howard has not only had one but two fair trials and twice convicted, once to hang. One thing certain James A. Violett, Attorney for Howard and one of the ablest lawyers in the State, made a master effort for his client and in his speech before the jury stated that he made no intimation that the council for the commonwealth had done any thing wrong in the prosecution of Howard. He said that there was no lawyer who believed more freely in the absolute honesty, integrity and fairness of Judge Cantrell than he, that no man could have construed the law better or throw more protection around Jim Howard in his trial than the honorable court. This, an outspoken endorsement of the trial from Howard's ablest attorney, ought to silence the organs that have sought to make political capital out of one of the foulest conspiracies and murders ever perpetrated in America. Twice proven guilty, twice convicted.

The Philadelphia Times says "the future of the country should fill every American with hope and confidence, for our commercial supremacy is secure." The Cincinnati Enquirer commenting on the above sentence, rightfully says: "This is unbecome. Our country, like every other country, has its business ups and downs; and the selfish course of tariff oppression of our own semi-dependence is not well calculated to glorify us in the future. We may so adjust the tariff to the needs of the other countries for awhile, but we cannot legislate for all the world forever. The statement of other countries are studying the tariff as industriously as our statesmen, and the time must come for a fair distribution of advantages."

A Republican paper points to the fact that Mr. Bryan is building a house (not so expensive as the republican paper reports, but still a good house) as evidence that he is getting "his share of republican prosperity." It may be interesting for the republicans to know that the house is being built from the proceeds of the "First Battle," which was published immediately after the election of 1890 and before the republicans began to boast of prosperity. Republican policies have not benefited Mr. Bryan except in the sense that a physician is indebted to sickness for his income. Republican policies furnish Mr. Bryan texts for editorials and speeches—Commiseration.

The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee have decided to shelve the question of reciprocity with Cuba until they have framed a bill for the reduction of the war revenue tax. A majority is prepared to favor a war bill practically wiping out the tax, when brother Wood and his coteries make forced marches on the capital in order to deliver a message to the President in which they say that "not one of our number holds a Presidential appointment, except one in the consular service." Whether or not the "hunger and apathy" can be scouted by a rough rider remiss to be seen."

Edward and John Biddle, two notorious criminals, who were to have been executed at Pittsburg, Pa., made their escape by sawing through the jail bars. The wife of the Warder of the prison furnished the tools and left with the convicts, she having fallen desperately in love with Edward, the youngest of the two.

Dan Collier lost out in his fight for the Survership, and Barnett was appointed. This is a throw-down for Gov. Bradley, and a feather in Yerkes' cap. Delos was for Barnett but his influence did not amount to a notch on a stick.

It is now said that the Philippines will be subdued by the end of this month. When February closes the time will be extended.

The Ways and Means Committee, by unanimous vote, last Wednesday instructed Chairman Payne to prepare a bill repealing all the war revenue taxes except the tax on mixed flour. The action taken was in the form of a resolution to the effect that the bill should provide for the repeal of the remaining war taxes, to take effect on July 1, 1900, except that the repeal of the duty on tea should go into effect January 1, 1900. The only division in the committee was on Amendments proposed by the Democratic members, Representative Richardson, of Tennessee, proposed an amendment to put tariff-made articles on the free list. This was defeated by a party vote, as was the amendment of Representative Robertson, of Louisiana, to continue the tax on "buckshot." Representative Newlands, of Nevada, offered two amendments, one exempting from the repeal the tax on petroleum and sugar refiners, and another imposing a tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent. on the gross receipts of any industrial corporation having receipts of $1,000,000 annually. Both amendments were defeated by party votes.

The President last Wednesday reapportioned C. M. Barnett Surveyor of Customs in Louisville, thus ending a long fight made by former Gov. Bradley in behalf of D. R. Collier. It is a triumph for Commissioner Yerkes and further stamps him as "patronage" man for Kentucky.

Notwithstanding the appeal of Admiral Schley was not granted he will always remain the hero of the American people the hero of Santiago, Naval rules may force an officer "to go away back and sit down," but the valor and courage displayed by Schley will never die with the American people.

It is predicted when the action of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, refusing Cuba any tariff concessions, reaches the Senate there will be a long dead lock.

It's a great wonder that President Roosevelt don't reprimand some of the leading news paper men of the country.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employee of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cough and cold in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlehan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's cough remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy and have since turned to it when I get a cold, and soon found relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by M. Graves.

Need for Consistency.

Best sugar interests in the South and West can hardly afford to patronize Cuba by refusing to make any concessions regarding the proposed reduction of the tariff on sugar imported from this country from the island. As Panama and recently, the United States will be recalcitrant to their duty if they neglect to provide the Cubans with the means of industrial prosperity.

To date there has been nothing to mar the good record in dealing with our Cuban neighbors. In contradiction to the treatment accorded to Porto Rico and the Philippines in various instances our attitude toward the Cubans is all American pride requires.

The South and West were the first to interest the country in the deplorable condition of Cuba. These two sections of the country gave full sway to their sympathy for the revolution. A larger proportion of volunteers for the war with Spain was raised in the South and West than in the North and East. The chivalrous instincts of the nation were best illustrated by such troops as the Twentieth Kansas and the Rough Riders.

Why should not this same chivalry be displayed in giving industrial peace to Cuba? There is no purpose to cripple the best sugar interests. Cuba asks that the tariff be lowered enough to permit the shipment of sugar into the United States on a basis where it can compete with Porto Rico and Hawaiian importations. A reasonable reduction of the tariff will not harm the best sugar interests. Especially is there no reason why Democrats should be so ineffectual as to favor protection for their own interest while advocating free trade for industries that happen to be located in the North. Cuba must be assisted. Its material prosperity is no less a consideration than its political liberty.—St. Louis Republic.

Cost of an Unamerican War.

In the course of the House debate on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill Representative Cochran of Missouri, reminded Congress that the war to subjugate the people of the Philippines has already cost the United States Government enough to construct the Nicaragua canal and to build 300 warships for the American Navy.

This startling presentation of a plain truth will not be lost on the American people. The ghastly Philippine middle has become a very sore spot on the national body. A policy of helplessness, indecision, of infirm judgment, of unwillingness to face the truth and set them on according to American standards, has placed this Government in a sorry plight. The hundreds of millions of dollars that are being spent in the Philippines are worse than wasted. They are being paid out to commit us finally and irrevocably to colonialism and imperialism.

The pity of the situation is infinite. For the first time in history the American flag is made the standard of conquest for the depopulation and subjugation of a weaker people. For the first time in history American soldiers are being compelled to fight against a nation aspiring to be free and to exercise the God-given right of self-government. There is no satisfaction possible to Americans from such a war. There can be no glory in victory at the cost of liberty to another people. We are fighting against ourselves when we fight against any race which seeks to be free like ourselves. Our own freedom is endangered when we deprive a weaker nation of freedom.

Americans are not blind to these truths. The colossal tragedy of the Philippines is teaching its inevitable lesson. The blood and money cost of a war which violates the basic principles of American Government is bitterly brooded. The American imperialists responsible for the appalling Philippine situation will yet be held to account and full accounting by the American people.—St. Louis Republic.

The following is a description of one of the men in jail at Hartford on the charge of robbing the bank at that place. He claims to be from this section, and some of our readers may recognize him by the description: George G. Gray claims to be from Greenwald, Green county, Ky., but he knows no one at that place. "I was born twenty years ago, but I was four or five years older. Weight 160 pounds; height 5 feet 9 1/2 inches; eyes blue; hair very light; complexion very fair; clean shaven; has scar one half inch long on first joint right middle finger; extensive varicose veins on inside right leg and thigh.

Railroad to Burkesville.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the County Clerk here for the Glasgow and Burkesville and Cumberland Valley Traction Company, with a capital stock of $10,000, which may be increased to $50,000.

The purpose of the company is to build and operate an electric railroad from Glasgow to Burkesville and to furnish light, heat and power to towns along the route.

The route of the road will be from Glasgow to Summer Shade, thence to Edmonston, thence to Marrowbone and there to Burkesville, the estimated distance being forty miles.

The incorporators are W. P. Dickerson, of Newport, Ky.; J. A. Dixon, J. E. Murray and C. W. Alexander, of Burkesville; J. A. Alexander, of Marrowbone; J. S. Leech, J. W. Jones, Glasgow.

The principal place of business will be Glasgow, and the first election of officers will be held here February 19. As soon as an organization is perfected the work of surveying the road will begin.

Those who have charge of the affairs of the new company at this end of the line say there is no doubt but that the road will be built.—Glasgow Times.

Prayer for Humanity.

Following the holding of a mass meeting in the interest of reciprocity with the United States the citizens of Havana formed a procession, marched to the palace occupied by Governor General Wood and there petitioned the United States for American help to save Cuba from ruin and desolation.

The disaster which threatens Cuba is one solely the consequence of a protective tariff if that burden is placed on Cuban products. The people of the island must needs look to the American people alone for rescue. The tariff which they fear is being concocted by the United States Government. Cuba is forbidden by us to make treaties with any other nation calculated to protect and encourage her trade, agriculture and industries. If we place a high tariff on her products the result will be calamitous.

On our part, we have solemnly pledged the national honor that we shall do fairly and justly with Cuba. The public sentiment of the United States demands the fulfillment of this pledge. Violation of the pledge is urged by certain special interests which will profit from the destruction of Cuban industries. The final decision in the matter rests with the American Congress. All the pressure possible to the syndicate masters of the Republican majority in Congress is being brought to bear to impose a high tariff on Cuban products. The unhappy outlook at the present moment is that Congress will yield to this pressure.

The Havana procession to the gates of the American Governor General's palace, there to demand justice at our hands, was a pathetic historical event. Also will it be an ominous event for us if we refuse the people's prayer. We cannot do wrong to a weaker people and escape the penalty. God will not permit the world's greatest free government to sin against the spirit of freedom and not be punished for that sin. What shall be our answer to the prayer of the Cuban people? Just and humane dealing with weak and helpless nation holding our promise for such dealing, or high-handed oppression in the form of a tyrannical taxation for the further enrichment of American placers? The decision in this solemn matter is of tremendously greater moment to ourselves than to Cuba. If we wrong that little people, being too mighty for them to resist, we shall pay for the wrong in disaster and humiliation as sure as God's justice prevails.—St. Louis Republic.

Medical authorities at Manila believe that much of the illness and breaking down of troops in the Philippines is due to homesickness, and plans are on foot for a brief daily cable service of American men, little of which reaches even Manila. Some time ago the government bought several tons of candy for its Philippine soldiers, and now if they are to get "letters from ma" every day, they will certainly be envied by the troops in Europe.

Georgia's Ancient Gold Mines.

Before the discovery of the rich gold fields in California in 1849 Georgia was the center of the gold mining industry in the United States. Consequently it will not surprise Georgians to know that the oldest gold mine in the country is to be found in this State.

This ancient bed of the yellow metal is known as the Calhoun mine and is located in Lumpkin county, near Danlogans. The mine was discovered as far back as 1828 and was owned at one time by John C. Calhoun, the great orator, whose name has been associated with it ever since. After passing out of the hands of Mr. Calhoun it became the property of some agricultural institution in the State of South Carolina.

For many years the mine was not worked with much profit to the owners, but recently it has come into the hands of an enterprising company of owners, who have put six men to work in it with a yield as much as $300 per month. Gradually the eyes of the country are turning once more to the mountains of north Georgia in quest of the yellow metal; and judging from discoveries which have recently been made it will not be long before this State again becomes an active center of the gold mining industry.—Constitution.

After July 1, 1902, the only kind of pistol that can be sold lawfully in South Carolina will be 22 inches long and weighing not less than three pounds. Under such conditions South Carolina statesmen will continue to rely on the pitchfork.—Courier Journal.

"I babbled into Mr. Blackman's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson, of Hamilton Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'Well if Chamberlain's pain balm does not help you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." Sold by M. Craves.

Two submarine torpedo boats are soon to be launched at San Francisco.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectively set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. G. D. Giam, an employee of Bristlet & Dennis Co., Gardiner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cough and cold in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlihan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's cough remedy and directed to pay for my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy and have since turned to it when I get a cold, and soon found relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by M. Craves.

The earlier Phlegm will search for the missing warlike Condor.

Danger of Colds and Grippe. The greatest danger of colds and grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by M. Craves who guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for grippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and it is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

The House yesterday completed consideration of the Urgent Deficiency Bill and it will be voted upon today. Provision is made in the bill for the payment of $30,000 for incidental expenses of the committees which attended the funeral of President McKinley.
